(c) if so, the details thereof; and

(d) the decision taken to solve this problem in the National Conference called recently to improve the quality of drinking water ?

Answer

MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF RURAL DEVELOPMENT(SHRI ANNASAHEB M. K. PATIL)

(a): Water Supply being a State subject, the schemes for providing drinking water supply in rural areas are implemented by the State Governments. The Government of India supplements the efforts of the States by providing funds under the Accelerated Rural Water Supply Programme (ARWSP). The State Governments have the powers to plan, sanction and implement individual rural drinking water supply schemes. A statement indicating funds released by the Government of India to States under the Accelerated Rural Water Supply Programme (ARWSP) during the last three years and the current year is at Annexe.

(b)&(c): As per the guidelines, the State Governments are required to provide funds from their own sources at least to match the funds provided by the Centre under the ARWSP. A few States are unable to provide the matching share. In such cases the gap is deducted from the release of next instalment of ARWSP funds. To that extent, implementation of the Programme does suffer in those States.

(d): The recent National Conference held in Delhi in June 2002 was exclusively to deliberate on issues relating to implementation of Rural Drinking Water Sector Reform Projects. Water quality problem was not discussed.
